Subject: HOLIDAY DONATION

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am honored and deeply moved by your proposal.

It is a real pleasure (but not a surprise) to discover that my fans are not only passionate and loyal but also generous of heart.

However, I do not feel it is my place to dictate to that generosity.

That being said, here is what I propose: if you, the fans, can first agree upon a specific charity amongst yourselves, I will gladly donate 5,000 dollars to the organization of your choice.

In the interest of finding a common cause generally agreeable to what I believe to be a geographically and ideologically diverse group of people, might I suggest a national organization, perhaps one specializing in children's services? Again, that is merely a suggestion.

I will be looking forward to your decision.

With respect and admiration,

Wentworth Miller
